GREETINGS, AWARE COMMUNITY!

In our ongoing mission to address the pressing challenges of cybersecurity across various facets of our lives, project AWARE is excited to announce an upcoming conference which is taking place at the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Slovenia on the 13th of October 2023.

Our conference agenda, thoughtfully curated in harmony with the spirit of the European Cybersecurity Month, promises an enlightening experience. We kick off with an inspiring lecture by Uroš Svete, PhD, the Director of the Government Information Security Office and cybersecurity expert, motivator, and facilitator of the variety of activities within the Slovenian cybersecurity community, who will illuminate the pivotal role of cybersecurity awareness and education in the digital age.

Beyond this, attendees will immerse themselves in the intricacies of the AWARE project. Here, we'll unveil our innovative approaches and the significant impact they've had in bolstering cybersecurity within the vocational education and training sector.

Furthermore, this event aims to foster a broader discussion within workshops that explore the future of our interconnected society. These workshops underscore the paramount importance of collaborative efforts in navigating the ever-evolving digital landscape securely. One of these workshops will focus on cooperation and education in cybersecurity, while another will delve into the far-reaching implications of the AWARE project on cybersecurity in education.

Our core message is crystal clear: Together, we have the power to forge a more secure digital future for all. This event also offers valuable networking opportunities, enabling to connect with experts, colleagues, and peers who share your unwavering commitment to cybersecurity.

More info on the findings from the conference workshops will follow in our next issue!
